Read Luke's diary and answer the questions.

Weather: ☼

Date: Dec. 21, 2009

Today our teacher took us to Mr. Chang's farm. When we got there, we saw cows walking around and eating the grass. Mr. Chang let his cows walk freely outside. He even touched their faces and talked to them like a father. Also, Mr. Chang only fed his cows with fresh grass and spring water from nature. He took good care of his cows so he could sell people the best milk. When he milked the cows, he even let us try. It was really exciting to get fresh milk from the cows by myself! When we were going to leave, Mr. Chang gave each of us a bag of cheese. It tasted wonderful!

You asked what kind of person I am.

I speak out what I think,
Loud like an angry queen;
I stay low,
Quiet like a winter tree.

I'm excited,
As happy as a jumping rabbit;
I'm bored,
Feeling like a dead fish.

What kind of person am I?
Who knows?
I live and wear different faces,
Like everyone else.

Kirsten: Have you read The Travel ? I just finished it yesterday.
Renee: No, but I've wanted to. Is it good?
Kirsten: It is! But it's quite grim.
Renee: How so?
Kirsten: In the story, a mother and her son were on a trip when they were caught by a group of crazy people. They were kept in a small dark room and treated terribly. It really broke my heart to read that the mother chose to stay and fight with the bad guys. She was almost killed when trying to help her son run away.
Renee: So it's this grim from the first page to the end?
Kirsten: Yes, but there's still a bright side in it. You get to see how strong parents can be when they want to keep their children from being hurt.
Renee: I see. I'm surely going to borrow it from the library.
Kirsten: Then you must hurry. When I borrowed it last Friday, they told me that many people were waiting to read it!

Six people are talking about two pie shops in a TV program.

Lily: I've been going to Pie House for twenty years. Now Marie's son is taking care of the business, and he makes pies as good as his mother's.

◇◇◇

Olive: I went to Pie Corner once. Their pies were great, too. But I feel more comfortable at Pie House.

◇◇◇

Ned: Uncle Roy used to work for my mom. Later he opened Pie Corner on the next block after he got married.

◇◇◇

Marie: Roy was already quite avant-garde when working with me. I mean he had different, sometimes even strange, ideas about pies. There were times I thought his pies wouldn't taste good, but they turned out magically delicious.

◇◇◇

Lee: Ned has done quite well with Pie House. His pies make you feel warm. But if you want to try something interesting, you should go to Pie Corner.

◇◇◇

Chuck: If eating Roy's pies is like taking an exciting trip, then Ned's pies are just like a sweet home you go back to after a long trip.

40. What do we know about the six people?
(A) They all have been to both pie shops.
(B) They all talked about what the pies taste like.
(C) Some of them are the shopkeepers of the pie shops.
(D) Some of them talked about how the shopkeepers treated their workers.

41. Which is true about the pie shops?
(A) Pie House is a family business.
(B) Pie Corner is next to Pie House.
(C) Pie Corner has a longer history than Pie House.
(D) Pie House gives people a place to stay for the night.

42. What does avant-garde mean in the reading?
(A) Having a new and surprising way of thinking.
(B) Trying to find out where the problems come from.
(C) Trying to act like someone who knows everything.
(D) Having many exciting and eye-opening life experiences.

(43-45)

If you enjoy reading, don't miss Shakespeare and Company when you visit the city of Paris. It is a famous English-language bookstore on the left bank of the river Seine. The first Shakespeare and Company in history was opened in 1919 by an American, Sylvia Beach. Ms. Beach did more than sell books. Her bookstore was also a library, and she even prepared beds for writers visiting there. Ms. Beach was not only kind to people but also good at choosing books, so her bookstore was often visited by writers like Ernest Hemingway and James Joyce. But in 1941, after the Germans took power in Paris, Ms. Beach was told to close her bookstore.

In 1951, another American, George Whitman, opened in Paris another English-language bookstore, Librairie Mistral. Since then, just as Ms. Beach did, Mr. Whitman has also made his bookstore a library for people to borrow books, and a free hotel for writers to stay in. To remember Ms. Beach, Mr. Whitman changed the name of his bookstore to Shakespeare and Company in 1964, two years after Ms. Beach died.

Next time when you are in Paris, don't forget to visit this friendly bookstore, and see if you can spend a night there!

43. About Shakespeare and Company, which is NOT talked about in the reading?
(A) It sells books.
(B) It prepares beds for writers.
(C) It lends books.
(D) It reads books to children.

44. What do we know about Mr. Whitman?
(A) He was Ms. Beach's neighbor.
(B) He used to work at Ms. Beach's bookstore.
(C) He has followed Ms. Beach's ways of doing business.
(D) He opened a bookstore in 1951 to remember Ms. Beach.

45. Why was Ms. Beach's business closed?
(A) She was asked to leave Paris.
(B) The Germans made her give it up.
(C) Her business went from bad to worse.
(D) She died.
